info sheet 019

Paradigma moves one step forward again and bring us the latest production of one of the hottest artists of this 2010 year. Simon Garcia delivers 'Fantalicious', a journey between the roots of the pure house and the rawness of techno. It is a totally floor-orientated tunage, yes, but also a trippy passage perfect to be served in the most advanced cutting-edge sets.

In the other side, Mioxam makes something deep, techno and old-school flavoured, inspired from the likes of Sydenham, Beyer or Tresher. A sure bet on the most profound chapters of a set.

Coming from Madrid, Simon Garcia, also known as Larakki, has just worked in labels such as Dieb Audio, Audio Therapy or Composite Records remixing head honcho DJ Yellow, and future tracks & remixes include labels like american's finest OM Records (remixing the brand new single of the forthcoming Wagon Cookin's new album), Natura Sonoris (Henry Saiz's label), Raw Cutz (Shur-I-Kan, Alexkid, Mihai Popoviciu or Kruse & Nurnberg are all releasing there among many others), Supplement Facts (Guy Gerber's imprint) and some other fine labels that are being captivated with his genuine, timeless, personal and futuristic sound, which is already getting support for the likes of Laurent Garnier, Jimpster, Guy J, Dyed Soundorom, Motorcitysoul, Nacho Marco, John Digweed, Slam, Gel Abril, Okain, Michel de Hey, and more authentic worldwide tastemakers.
